Happy Summer!

Since many are hopefully still in vacation mode, this issue is dedicated to Vacation.

Planning a trip is not as easy as you want it to be. You not only have to plan for the travel itself, the accommodations, entertainment of the trip, you have to plan for the smooth running of operations at home while you are gone. By planning your trip as if it were a project, you can simply plan your trip so you can enjoy yourself to the fullest.

Organiz-ER helps individuals create their project plans as small as planning a yard sale to as large as implementing a complex integrated computer system.
